Satan's Birthday Party

Definitions

The Satanist realizes that man, and the action and reaction of the universe, is responsible for everything, and doesn't mislead himself into thinking that someone cares. Is it not more sensible to worship a god that he, himself, has created, in accordance with his own emotional needs—one that best represents the very carnal and physical being that has the idea-power to invent a god in the first place?

- Satanism not devil worship; "I-theists"
- Atheism different from "agnostic"; atheism=scientism
- Luciferianism Devil worship
- Nihilism "nothing is real"; denial of self and senses, solipsism
- Monism everything is one, we are all one
- Dualism good and evil, co-eternal binary opposition
- Syntheism artificial god; Kurzweil, Singularity
- Self is god message of Aquarian conspiracy, New Age movement, Burning Man
- Death of god Thus Spake Zarathustra; natural aristocracy of the superman
- Nietzsche uber-mensch; Super Man, X-Men, entire Marvel genre

Luciferianism is a belief system that includes both theistic and atheistic denominations and is, therefore, heavily influenced by differing personal beliefs. Considered by many to be a religion, and by some to be a philosophy or way of life, Luciferianism as a whole has no specific dogma to which its followers adhere. Rather, it encompasses a broad range of beliefs with numerous personal variations, ranging from the veneration of a literal deity and the practice of occultism, to a secular set of principles that use mythological references as a form of symbolism and cultural tradition.

Journey of a Satanist

from observation to acceptance

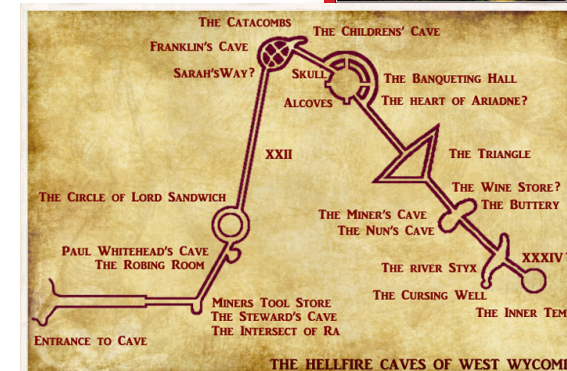

- Nature encompasses all that exists. There is nothing supernatural in Nature.
- The spiritual is an illusion. I am utterly carnal.
- Reason is my tool for cognition making faith anathema. I question all things. I am a skeptic.
- I do not accept false dichotomies, finding instead the “third side” which brings me closest to understanding the mysteries of existence.
- The universe is neither benevolent nor malevolent; it is indifferent.
- There are no Gods. I am an atheist.
- There is no intrinsic purpose to life beyond biological imperatives. I thus determine my own life’s meaning.
- I decide what is of value. I am my own highest value therefore I am my own God. I am an I-theist.
- Good is that which benefits me and promotes that which I hold in esteem.
- Evil is that which harms me and hinders that which I cherish.
- I live to maximize the Good for myself and those I value. At all times I remain in control of my pursuit of pleasure. I am an Epicurean.
- Merit determines my criteria for the judgment of myself and others. I judge and am prepared to be judged.
- I seek a just outcome in my exchanges with those around me. I thus will do unto others as I would prefer they do unto me. However, if they treat me poorly, I shall return that behavior in like degree.
- I grasp the human need for symbols as a means for distillation of complex thought structures.
- The symbol that best exemplifies my nature as an aware beast is Satan, the avatar of carnality, justice, and self-determination.
- I see myself reflected in the philosophy created by Anton Szandor LaVey.
- I am proud to call myself a Satanist.

A BALANCE OF FEATURES

The APPLE-1 SYSTEM is a fully assembled, tested & burned-in microprocessor board using the 6502 microprocessor. The board contains processor & support hardware; complete video electronics for a 40 character line, 24 line video display; on-board RAM capacity of 8K BYTES; software system monitor in PROM, and fully regulated power supplies. The Apple attaches directly to an ASCII encoded keyboard and a video monitor, allowing the efficient entry and examination of programs in hexadecimal notation. The use of the new 16-pin 4K RAM chips results in low power and high density memory, which can be upgraded to the 16K chips when they become available (32K bytes on-board RAM!!)

A fast (1 kilobaud) cassette interface is available and includes a tape of Apple Basic. And ... Yes, Folks, Apple Basic is Free!

Lt Col Dr Michael Aquino

Steve Outtrim 9 months ago (edited)

Sean, I really want to congratulate you on a) getting Col Aquino on your show and b) conducting an absolutely phenomenal interview. Definitely one of the best I've ever seen. You asked some brilliant questions and stuck to it with him when he gave sometimes evasive answers. One thing I would like to know is if he is still serving in Intelligence (he mentioned 40 years)? Some online reports put him in the top 5 of the NSA and now a General.

Reply · 1

Michael Aquino 8 months ago

I wasn't trying to be evasive, but (1) I cannot step over the line of compromising Classified information, and (2) Setian philosophy and metaphysics can be very abstract and complex, causing audience MEGO in short order. Geraldo Rivera once asked me to use words of no more than 2 syllables!

I formally joined the Army in 1966 as an ROTC cadet, was commissioned in 1968, retired from active duty in 1994 and from the Army in 2006 as a Lt. Colonel, Military Intelligence. [PSYOP was a branch-immaterial specialty.]

Throughout my career I had periodic professional contact with other Intelligence Community entities, such as CIA, NRO, USIA/ICA, and State. NSA was not one of them, for the simple reason that it's involved with electronic/signals Intel (SIGINT), while I was exclusively involved with human Intel (HUMINT) and Space Intelligence. NSA has some military personnel assigned to it, but does not have its own military ranks. I would certainly enjoy an "NSA General's" retirement pay, but have to make do as a modest Army Lt. Colonel.

*Captain Michael A. Aquino, Jr., 568-66-9015, Armor
 United States Army*
 for the performance of exceptionally meritorious service in support of the objectives of the United States Army
 Armor Center, Fort Knox, Kentucky, during the period

November 1970 to July 1972
 Through his outstanding professional competence and devotion to duty he consistently obtained superior results.
 Working long and arduous hours, he set an example that inspired his associates to strive for maximum achievement.
 The loyalty, initiative and will to succeed that he demonstrated at all times materially contributed to the successful accomplishment of the missions of the US Army Armor Center. His exemplary performance is in keeping with the finest traditions of the United States Army and reflects great credit upon himself and the military service.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Passing the Satanic Baton

It was to the mantle of Aleister Crowley that Michael Aquino seemed to aspire. While LaVey used some of Crowley's concepts and materials as they suited him, Aquino took Crowley and his "gospel" quite seriously. In fact, Aquino saw his mission as:

"...to destroy the influence of conventional religion in human affairs...not so much that we want everyone to be converted to Satanism as an institutional religion, but that we want to unravel the web of fear and superstition that has perpetuated all formal beliefs. Satanism should not be just another religion. It should be an unreligion." (1971)

The Temple of Set

"The U.S. military was heavily represented at the Temple. William Butch, Aquino's brother-in-law, a former Pittsburgh police officer, was a naval reservist. Bruce Bibee, a former captain in Aquino's psyop unit in San Pedro, enlisted in the Temple. Captain Willie Browning was a military intelligence officer. Setian Dennis K. Mann was a reserve Army major in the intelligence field. An Army CID investigative report filed with the San Francisco Police Department notes that an informal check of official records revealed that Mann and Browning were "Captains, Military Intelligence." Black Ops. Aquino himself has served stints as a Green Beret, a liaison officer in NATO countries, and a consulting faculty member at the U.S. Army Command and General Staff.

The promising young Satanist's military function in Vietnam was "human ecology" – a CIA code-word for behavior modification and mind control. Major Jack Downing, a self-professed "Man in Black," recalls, "I was working alongside the CIA as a consultant in psyops and as a specialist in 'human ecology.' That's a phrase that connotes different things, depending on the context, from the wholesome to the not-so-wholesome. In the capacity for which I was employed, it was a way of pinning down the psyche and behaviors of human beings in differing environments or under various circumstances. It employed the observational principles of anthropologists and psychologists alongside the more manipulative techniques of advertisers, social engineers and 'golden age' brainwashers. It was, in retrospect, a very unorthodox and ethically questionable thing." Downing says "we brought the MK [mind control] projects into the war. The extreme circumstances of warfare gave us excellent opportunities to observe the ways certain mind control technologies might work."

Downing was in Germany applying "some of the findings we got." He set up "some things" at Army bases stateside. "At the time of my leaving, my role ... as human ecology expert was taken up by another officer, a Michael Aquino, who was trying out these [mind control] principles in the context of Anton LaVey's church"

– Alex Constantine, Michael Aquino Revisited – Was He Guilty?

Aquino founded the Temple of Set on a beach in Santa Barbara on the North Solstice, June 1975, He channeled the "Book of the Law" the same way Crowley obtained his book.

Selfless Sacrifice for Self-Is-God

As turgid as they were, the life-after-death religions made the misery of life at least a little less miserable by holding out the hope of salvation and redemption in the afterworld. It might be a false promise, but it was comforting - and it could not be exposed as a lie until too late.

As civilization continued its upward climb, the life of the common man gradually became longer, healthier, and more affluent. It stands to reason that it should have become happier, but this would have weakened the hold of the great religions. So they told man that he should feel guilty for enjoying himself, because such enjoyment was supposed to occur only after death. By another of those almost incredible ironies of history, this idiotic proposition was believed across almost the entire range of modern civilization. There were those who denied it, and there were those who exploited it, but on the whole it prevailed. Only in the most recent times, when it has become so difficult to avoid having fun that most people have given up the battle [and the guilt], have the life-after-death religions begun to lose their grip and their power.

Anton LaVey did not start this revolution, nor did he lead it in a demagogic sense, but he did articulate it far more succinctly and essentially than anyone else had managed to do. In magical terminology he Uttered a Word - Indulgence - which shattered all philosophies and theologies not incorporating this principle, and thereby he became a Magus. [The magical title of “Magus” properly identifies those magicians of history who have conceptualized and defined successive stages of mankind’s non-natural evolution.]

“At its most elemental level, “sacrifice” implies the giving up of something precious to oneself in return for some other benefit or favor. Human beings being the selfish creatures they are, it has always seemed preferable to give up something precious to others in order to obtain the expected benefit”.

MindWar THE PSYCHOLOGY OF VICTORY

a permanent state of strategic psychological warfare against the populations of friend and foe nations alike

"On the premise that war is endemic to the human disposition, MindWar proposes to eliminate its killing and destruction by replacing it with a far more powerful kind of war - one which focuses on the human mind both individually and collectively. The persons and property of people are removed as targets, replaced by the divisive situations and problems originating in their consciousness. These are then controlled, adjusted, and reformed to produce a harmonious and cooperative total environment.

In its strategic context, mindwar must reach out to friends, enemies and neutrals alike across the globe ... through the media possessed by the United States which have the capabilities to reach virtually all people on the face of the Earth. These media are, of course, the electronic media—television and radio. State of the art developments in satellite communication, video recording techniques, and laser and optical transmission of broadcasts make possible a penetration of the minds of the world...

The price for this solution is that, for the first time in practical history, the actual machinery of human thought is accessed, by the methodical application of science, psychology, and esoteric arts of antiquity. MindWar assumes, as did the ancients, that the ultimate aspiration of mankind is to the Good. But, like the Manhattan Project which rashly opened an earlier genie's bottle, MindWar could be misused with even more ominous consequences. Devised to save humanity, it could also supersede it. Hence this genie must be examined and evaluated while its bottle is still sealed.

This book extrapolation and evolution of the original 1980 concept is not merely theoretical. It proposes "laboratory" implementation through the structural redesign of the U.S. Army's three "Special Operations" branches: Psychological Operations, Special Forces, and Civil Affairs."

"There are some purely natural conditions under which minds may become more or less receptive to ideas, and MindWar should take full advantage of such phenomena as atmospheric electromagnetic activity, air ionization, and extremely low frequency waves"

*Everyone knows that computers and computer science are continuing to mushroom, but few really know just how much and with what impact. The reality is astonishing in some ways and overblown in others. Industrialized civilizations of the planet are now so dependent upon computerized systems of commerce and communication that they are close to being "at the mercy" of the computer scientist, whose responsibility it is to "make the things work" - and, incidentally, to set parameters for human enterprise by taking computer design in one direction or another. Obviously a computer-dominated society is hyperefficient in some ways, hypervulnerable in others.

*At the very least the magician must know enough about the field so that he is sensitive to the ways in which it influences him - and the ways in which he may use it to influence others

Church of Satan & Transhumanism

“Why do I prefer androids to many “real” humans?”

“Androids can be created, programmed, utilized exactly according the Master’s whims. They require no energy-consuming interaction in order to salve a non-existent ego. Yet even the semblance of an ego can be built into an android via actions and words – but always according to the Maker’s requirements. They can be shelved when they grow tiresome, brought back out when needed, modified in appearance, and destroyed without moral conscience.”

“They are ideal companions. They never talk back, unless you want them to, yet you can insult them to your heart’s content. Insofar as work is concerned, that can be performed by either non-humanoid machines or humans of limited intelligence operating machines of greater intelligence.” – Anton LaVey

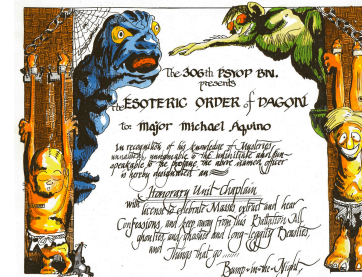

Church of Satan Master Plan

“The church cannot sustain itself on the altruism and loyal dedication of its present “supermen” followers. In due time, after conditioning has been achieved and the movement has grown vast, human potential can be categorized into shouters, money-donors, leaders, legitimacy-providers, menial volunteers, etc. – just as past religions which have dealt with human animals have done. Each person’s respective value can then be extracted, and the Temples and Pleasure Domes can be built ... according to our plans.”

“The four principal devils are: Leviathan, representing the sea; Lucifer, the lord of the air or bearer of light; Belial, the lord of the earth; and Satan, lord of the fire. One of the main goals of the Church of Satan is to build pleasure domes in which the members of the Church can indulge themselves in their personal desires. By having a place to go where they can release their desires, the members can lead an unfrustrated life in the everyday world...A pleasure dome would consist of many different rooms and recreational facilities for the purpose of fulfilling each member’s personal desires.” – Anton Szandor LaVey in The Church of Satan by Michael Aquino (1983)

Michael Aquino on his time in the 306th Psychological Operations Battalion in LA in the 70’s:

“[T]he 306th seemed to attract every mad scientist, character actor, and miscellaneous weirdo in the Los Angeles area. One group of officers, dearly beloved by the battalion, decked out their office on the post as a medieval chamber, complete with candelabra, wine-bottles, sumptuous rugs, and antique oak furniture. They were served wine by nude wenches, whose photographs appeared charmingly on the walls. Often these gallants, who had forsaken ordinary U.S. Army uniforms for custom-designed ones of Ruritarian splendor, would conduct impromptu duels with fencing sabres. It was not uncommon for the battalion staff to be holding a briefing for the commander (a World War II command bomber pilot) while the clash of steel was heard through the window.”

Pleasure Domes and Androids

“Of LaVey’s many radical ideas, none seems as radical as his proposal that Satanists create and dwell in an artificial world and society of their own designs. Here he suggests a new view of cosmology, one that is at once material and a product of the human imagination. The fourth point of LaVey’s five-point program of Pentagonal Revisionism is the design and manufacture of androids to act as artificial human companions or slaves. The fifth point of the program extends this idea to total environments. These are to be privately owned and operated communities or environments that totally conform to the aesthetic wishes of those living or visiting there...In these total environments, the Satanist would be free from a kind of “aesthetic pollution” with which he is usually constantly bombarded, much to the detriment of his ability to indulge his desires”

“Humanity itself is divided into two groups: the Satanic nonconformists (who indulge their genuinely individualized desires) and the “rubes” (who conform overtly or covertly to the herd mentalities of religion, science, politics, fashion, the media, and so forth). The self-aware Satanist is virtually always in a position to prey upon the rubes, the dupes of the mass mentality”
